Auto-Renewal Notice

Your membership was automatically renewed on 15 March 2026 for a further 12-month term. No explicit consent was obtained for this renewal at the point of auto-renewal. Under the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013, onerous auto-renewal clauses that are not clearly highlighted at the time of contract formation may be unenforceable. The £150 exit fee may similarly be challengeable as a disproportionate penalty clause under the Consumer Rights Act 2015.

Cancellation Policy (as stated in contract)

Members wishing to cancel must provide 30 days written notice. Cancellation within the first 12 months of any term incurs an early termination fee of £150.00. Cancellations submitted after the 14-day cooling-off period are subject to this fee. FitLife reserves the right to continue collecting direct debit payments until written cancellation is confirmed.

Consumer Rights Note

If this auto-renewal was not brought to your attention clearly before renewal, you may have grounds to cancel without fee under the Consumer Contracts Regulations. A formal complaint letter citing these regulations is recommended as a first step before escalating to Trading Standards or the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA).
