Deposit Protection — Critical Issue Identified

Clause 7 of this agreement references deposit protection as follows: 'The Landlord will take reasonable steps to protect the deposit in a government-approved scheme.'

This clause is non-compliant with the Housing Act 2004 (as amended) for the following reasons:

- The clause does not name a specific government-approved tenancy deposit scheme (TDS, DPS, or MyDeposits), as required.
- No Prescribed Information has been provided to the tenant within the statutory 30-day period (s.213 Housing Act 2004).
- The deposit amount of £1,490.00 has not been confirmed as registered with any scheme as of the date of this document.
- The phrase 'reasonable steps' does not satisfy the absolute statutory duty to protect the deposit.

Consequence of non-compliance: Under s.214 Housing Act 2004, a tenant may apply to the County Court for an order requiring the deposit to be repaid or protected, plus a penalty of between 1x and 3x the deposit amount (i.e. up to £4,470.00). Additionally, the landlord cannot serve a valid Section 21 notice while the deposit remains unprotected.

Other Tenancy Terms

Rent reviews are subject to one month's written notice. The tenant is responsible for utility bills and council tax. No pets without prior written consent. The property must be returned in the same condition as at commencement, fair wear and tear excepted. This agreement is governed by the law of England and Wales.
